

"Cultural Heritage Management: Archaeology, architecture and urban planning"

The temple of Apollo, Karthaia, Keos island

Summer School in Athens and Kea,
9 –29 June 2014

Organizers:

Faculty of History & Archaeology, University of Athens
Department of Architecture, University of Patras,
Department of Cultural Technology & Communication, University of the Aegean

Dear colleagues and students,

In June 2014, under the auspices of the postgraduate programme "Cultural Heritage Management: Archaeology, architecture and urban planning", a three-week Summer School under the same name will be organized, bringing three research areas in one project.

The programme is open mainly to students who have completed three years of undergraduate studies in compatible research subjects (i.e. archaeology, architecture and cultural technology) but also to people who have relevant knowledge of such topics and wish to acquire a comprehensive experience in archaeology, excavation and computer applications in archaeology, heritage conservation and documentation, conservation and restoration of monuments, cultural economics and cultural property law.

The School comprises daily lectures and practicals. The course includes ninety (90) hours of lectures, plus practicals and visits in archaeological sites and museums (see below). The successful completion of the programme corresponds to ECTS grades awarded by the University of Athens, the University of Patras and the University of the Aegean.

Excavation of the ancient theater of Karthaia, Karthaia, Keos island

More specifically, the course curriculum comprises three main themes:

Archaeology and History of Art

- History of Art and Architecture (with special modules on Greek prehistory, Classical times, Byzantium, Modern Art & Architecture)
- Archaeological fieldwork techniques and methods
- Computer applications in archaeology

Architecture-Urban Planning-Restoration

- Theory of Architecture
- Urban theory
- Theory and techniques of restoration

Cultural Management

- Introduction to cultural heritage management
- Cultural heritage management, and New Technologies
- Cultural economics
- Cultural Heritage and the Law

During the first week, lessons will take place at Athens and then on the island of Kea, Cyclades. During the weekends, educational visits will take place at the Acropolis and the Agora, the New Acropolis Museum, the Museum of the Ancient Agora and the National Archaeological Museum in Athens as well as Sounion, Lavrion, Karthaia, Aghia Marina tower in Kea and the island of Kythnos.

Left. The Late-classical/Hellenistic tower at Ag.Marina, Keos island
Right. Otzias bay, Keos island

Dates: 9 – 29 June 2014

Please submit your application and CV at summer\_school@arch.uoa.gr

Closing date for applications: May 4 2014

Course Fee: 3200 euros. The course fee includes tuition, accommodation and maintenance. Travel expenses are not included.

All lectures and workshops will be delivered in English.